How to Reach Me:

Since I spend so much time on the phone with clients, I prefer that you email or text me when you need a session, and let me know whether it is urgent.

For emergency or time-critical questions, I will get back to you with my earliest availability.

For less urgent sessions, we can usually schedule something within 24-48 hours. We can either talk over the phone, or use my recorded line if you want an MP3 recording of the call.

If I am in session with another client, or teaching a class, I will get back to you as soon as I am available.
